A Hard Worker.

"You have great faith in your congressman." "Seems to me like it's justified," said Mr. Cobbles. "Anybody that's as reg'lar about sendin' me free seeds an' all the latest crop reports, not to mention full details about them cave dwellers that used to live out West, with stacks of pamphlets tellin' me how to fight th' boll weevil an' th' skeeter, is on the job even if he ain't no statesman."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Sacrifice.

Love means sacrifice and appreciation. And the man who thinks he loves and has not the spirit of sacrifice only is administering to his self-gratification. All of the big emotions have coupled with their expression an underlying element of capacity for repression. It is the ability to give or withhold that makes their true value, and since love is the greatest of all these then the greater should be the power of sacrifice.—Alden

Trolley Dirigible.

Trolley dirigible system, electric motor driven, is proposed for the carrying of mails, particularly for over sparsely settled territory. The pipe from car to gas bag carries electrically heated air for regulating the buoyancy. The trolley cable is wound on a drum, allowing adjustment of altitude.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

One rainy day I walked into a cafeteria, selected my dinner, and just as I stood at the checker's desk the party in front of me took a step back, knocking the tray from my hands and spilling the entire contents on the floor. I thought as I looked at the unfortunate mess that I failed to see the steak which had been on the tray, but supposed that it had fallen under a chair out of sight. A waitress stepped up to me and told me to select my dinner over again which I did with every one in the place watching me. I bolted the food as quickly as I could and went out into the rain once more, when upon opening my umbrella the piece of steak which I had failed to see in the restaurant fell from it.—Chicago Tribune.

She Didn't Change.

We had learned the family name of our new neighbors and so were somewhat surprised when their small daughter, while playing with our children announced that her surname differed from the rest of the family.

"Why, that isn't your mama's name is it," I asked?

"Oh, no, but she got married again, and you see I stayed just like I always was."—Chicago Tribune.

Own Only Ground's Surface.

In Japan individuals own only the surface of the ground and its products all mineral deposits being government property.

Accompanying.

One is most grateful to see from the circulars of the great schools of music, that the art of accompaniment is at last to receive that recognition which it has long been denied. How many teachers notice it in their work? Very few recognize its utility. They are all out to provide show pieces, or solos. Yet if you can put a song down before a player feeling that he will do justice to it, and thereby help the singer, the value of such skill is much greater than the ability to play a solo; and if you can transpose, a tone up or down, your earning equipment in the musical world is greatly increased. For general purposes this branch of music is the most useful of all.—Exchange.

[illegible] still [illegible] by some of the [illegible] Indians, and a [illegible] upon a young girl who was believed by one of the tribes to be a witch. The girl who is only sixteen, was tied to a tree by her hair, and with her hands tied behind her. In this condition she was left to meet whatever fate might befall her. She was found a few days later by a passing party of white people, almost dead from starvation and thirst, and her face so badly bitten by mosquitoes that the features were indistinguishable. She was taken to a settlement, and with care and nursing is expected to recover.

Perverse Critters.

"I can't help thinking sometimes," said the discouraged farmer, "that the worse you treat your hens the more eggs you will get from them. I remember an old joke where one man asked another: 'How do you get so many eggs?' 'Why,' said the other, 'I treat my hens so unscientifically they're all laying for me.'"

Safeguard the Family.

If there is a bottle of poison in the house, says the Philadelphia Record, insert three pins in opposite directions in the cork. This will make it impossible to remove the cork without being reminded that there is something unusual about its contents. It is a safety device that cannot be improved upon.

Thrist of Sea Birds.

Some species of sea birds frequently spend weeks at sea and are believed to quench their thirst partly from the falling rains. The keen eyesight of birds is well known and sea birds have been observed flocking toward a storm cloud about to burst.

How to Save.

"It's got so," says an old friend of ours, "that a fellow can't save any money without doing without something.' While this is perfectly true, we hold to the opinion that a fellow never could.

Machine "Stuffs" Newspapers.

A Seattle inventor has patented a newspaper stuffing machine that does the work of 14 men in placing sections of papers together.

Correct.

"All flesh is grass," observed the Sage. "That's right," agreed the Fool. "There are a lot of hayseeds in the world."

Yes, If It's Mint Covered.

Smallest Bird.

The smallest known bird is a Central American humming bird that is about as large as a blue bottle fly.

Boulevards in Havana.

Havana has one of the finest boulevard systems in the world, including nearly 200 miles of paved streets.

When News Is Not News.

The supreme court has held that news is property. Some of it is, and then some is "improvements thereon."

Kindling Spark Required.

Plant That Is Shunned.

One of the most interesting plants in the Atlantic states is the Virginia wild ginger. It is found both in the Virginias and as far south as Georgia. There are several other species in the Atlantic states as far south as Florida and northward to Connecticut. The plant grows in very hilly and wooded places, and is easily recognized by its kidney-shaped leaves and curious purplish-brown flowers. These flowers grow one to a stem. No living thing will eat its bitter leaves and one rarely sees the flower unless one hunts for it, for it hides itself out of sight if possible.

Prettiness.

Many persons erroneously suppose that they have found beauty when they have taken pleasure in what is merely pretty, and this is unfortunate for it makes it necessary to differentiate between what is pretty and what is beautiful. To the lover of prettiness, love is a little frosted cake, joy a luscious bon bon, sorrow a dose of bitter medicine. Prettiness is ephemeral But beauty is powerful and memorable.—M. Wilkinson.

Horses Inhale Smoke.

Horses imported into Argentina are taught to avoid a poisonous weed that the native animals shun naturally by forcing them to inhale smoke from burning pieces of the weed.

"CHEAP NATIONALISM"

It is well that Frederick C. Howe is no longer Commissioner of Immigration, for if he were he would try to find means to avoid carrying out the order to deport Emma Goldman, his intimate friend. The Ellis Island investigation has brought to light a letter which Emma wrotee to her "dear Fred Howe" not only scoffing at efforts to "Americanize America" but containing this illuminating passage: 'I hope that your fine spirit and your good taste will not be carried away by the cheap nationalism which is everywhere raising its sinister heaad in America today."

It is "cheap nationalism" to stand for America's existing governmental structure and time-hortored institutioons. The brave and fine thing is to turn your back on these and join the international group of socialists, anarchists and communists who would pull all governments down and destroy the institution of private property, in order that drones may fatten upon the accumulaions of the industrious. This is not merely the view of the Emma Goldman type of "Red;" it is to no little extent the view also of the parlor socialist of the type of Emma Goldman's "dear Fred Howe." It is none too reassuring to learn that parlor socialists who regard patriotism as "cheap' have recently been in the employ of the Federal government, for it inevitably begets the not unreasonable fear that there are others now in the Federal service who are secretaly working to defeat the government's efforts.

THE COAL SITUATION

Calling off the coal strike meets with popular approval among the people. True the miners are not getting anything near what they asked, but 14 per cent is a very substantial raise in wages, all things considered. Furthermore there is to be an investigation of conditions surrounding and connected with the coal business which will be looked into by a special commission to be appointed by the President, in which the miner, the operator and the public will be represented. This plan was formulated by the Attorney General, in connection with Mr. Tumulty, who represented the President.

Fuel Administrator Garfield had suggested a commission to investigate with Secretary Lane at its head, and of a composition differing from the make-up proposed for the body to be appointed, but hoping for a better proposition, and it is believed they got it in the approval of a small commission, for in this case the miner and the operator will predominate, while the public will be outvoted on every phase of the investigation, should the other two decide to act together. However, it is hoped that the men selected by President Wilson will have a broad view of the general situation and arrive at a just decision after taking into consideration all those who are directly concerned.

Sixteen Bridgeport, Ohio, miners returning to their native land a few days ago, were credited with taking on an average of $8,300 in good American dollars with them. These men had evidently come to America to get a chance at the high wages, and having accumulated a goodly pile of the big round boys are now going back to their native land to live in luxury and opulence. Sort of "cashing in" on America.

On orders from government officials the extra hands which have been employed at the locks during the strike were relieved from duty on [illegible]. From now on the locks [illegible] will be in charge of [illegible] regular crews.

[illegible] should be compelled [illegible] to nine hours [illegible] Pittsburg stores are [illegible] a lot of people [illegible] their Christmas shopping. Therefore, do your shopping now before it is too late.

With the coal strike called off and the steel strike virtually over, industrial activities should take on renewed life, and the old-time payroll be in evidence before many weeks have passed away.

"The people want relief from the interminable meddling of governmental departments in their private and personal affairs," said Governor Sproul, of Pennsylvania, in an address before the Republican National Committee at Washington on Wednesday. What we need to do is to get back to pre-war conditions, revoke the extraordinary powers given to the chief executive of the nation, and a cessation of the stranglehold on enterprise.

Good in Mental Friction.

A wise old chap in central Pennsylvania says his enemies are better to him than his friends. His friends agree with him and make life as easy as they can. His enemies don't care a rap for his comfort but rather endeavor to keep him hard-pressed. Accordingly he is more alert when dealing with them and does his best work under pressure. In fact he has made most of his money because the wiles of the foe have made him cautious and untiring. And who has not felt his spirit glow under the stimulus of a little mental rivalry? The very keenness of some wits makes men witty. There is something in the challenge of their repartee that draws out a man's best. It's the mental friction that starts the [illegible]

True Patriotism Is Silent.

A people not factitiously great has no occasion to speak of its greatness, and true patriotism expresses itself in deeds, not words. This patriotism has no suspicions, no jealousies, no fears, no self-consciousness. It is deeper than words. It is silent, majestic; it is where the country is, does what she bids, and though sacrificing all upon her altars, never dreams that it is doing anything extraordinary. There is, perhaps, more of this genuine patriotism in the American people than strangers, or even we ourselves, commonly suppose. The foam floats on the surface and is whirled hither and thither by each shifting breeze, but below are the sweet, silent, deep waters.—O. A. Brownson.

Great Rock Attracts Many.

Bon Echo rock is a great headland of rock that rises sheer for almost 500 feet from the placid, shadowed, unfathomable waters of Lake Mazinaw, and is generally known as the Gibraltar of Canada. It has long been a magnet that has drawn men from far and near. Geologists have studied its peculiar formation, botanists have risked their lives to secure rare flowers that peep from fissures in the smooth faces of rock, lovers of nature have paddled about its base and climbed to its heights and adventurous souls have searched often and earnestly for a store of silver which, legend says, the Indians long ago cached somewhere upon its plateau top.

Great Occasions Reveal.

Great occasions do not make heroes or cowards; they simply unveil them. Silently and imperceptibly we grow and wax strong, we grow and wax weak; and at last some crisis shows what we have become.

Just Kids.

"Guess I'll go into the parlor." "No fun in there, only sis with her beau. What do you wanter go in there fer?" "I won't be long. He'll pay me a quarter—to git out."

Useless.

Next to a silver loving cup our notion of the most useless thing in the world is one of those elaborately jeweled swords they are presenting to returning generals nowadays.

What's a Husband, Anyway?

"Did the fair defendant introduce any character witnesses?" "A dozen at least." "And did they say anything good about her?" "They all swore she was kind to her poodle."

Patent Pipe Stuffer.

Two Californians have patented a device that measures a pipeful of tobacco from a pouch or box and stuffs it into a pipe without contact with a user's fingers.

Correspondent Answered.

No, Robert, beer is not mentioned in the Bible; not lager beer, at any rate; but we read in Job: "I have seen the foolish taking root."—Boston Transcript.

The Amateur Speculator.

Another pathetic little feature of everyday life is the way every fool amateur speculator thinks for a time that he's a conservative investor.—Ohio State Journal.

The Happy Ending.

"Marguerite, can you cook?" "No Percival; can you afford to keep a limousine?" "No, dear." So they did not marry and they lived happily ever afterward.

FIRST TO USE WATER WINGS

Lovesick Maori Maiden Credited With Devising Those Valuable Aids to Weak Swimmers.

Water wings were invented by a Maori maiden hundreds of years before the British [illegible] these New Zealand natives. She used some gourds [illegible] together [illegible] with a gourd [illegible] she swam [illegible] her lover [illegible] was not [illegible]

The romantic story is a pretty one. [illegible] mother was the beautiful [illegible] of the Ngati [illegible] tribe. His father was a [illegible] the soft-spoken [illegible] Tuwhakaroa, who had persuaded Rangi-uru to run away with [illegible]. Later she repented and returned to her husband who forgave her. He took her child into the family and moved to another neighborhood, so [illegible] the family would escape gossip. [illegible] district Tutanekai grew into an Apollo of manhood and a regular [illegible] birth, followed him. He fell in love with Hine-Moa, but her father [illegible] consent to the marriage. The [illegible] while the girl's [illegible]. Hine-Moa planned to [illegible] to his island [illegible] Rotorua [illegible] before [illegible] extra safety [illegible] she was an ex[illegible] swimmer.

ON TRACK OF VAST TREASURE

Circumstances Indicate Probability That Vast Hoards of the Mongo's Has Been Discovered.

[illegible] Mongo's [illegible]

[illegible] the desert [illegible] Europe [illegible] century and carried [illegible]. With the [illegible] the great secret to [illegible] the place of [illegible] treasure.

Some years ago two men in Yar[illegible] relics of ancient Asia [illegible] believed they [illegible] upon the tomb of the treasures. It was then that an adventurous Englishman, H. Spaulding, called them to him and set out to further explore the treasure region. It was reported that he had penetrated the region, but that he had been slain on making his getaway. The appearance of some of the ancient relics in India recently is believed to indicate that Spaulding was robbed and that the treasures are slowly being sold by his [illegible].

Mutual Difficulty.

Mrs. Stuart Menzies in Sportsmen Parsons, tells an amusing story of a [illegible] famed alike as a hard rider to hounds and a profound scholar, who was one day performing a christening ceremony.

Owing to the mother's faulty pronunciation of the aspirate he could not make out, writes Mrs. Menzies, whether the child's name was to be Anna or Hannah, so, stooping, he asked her quietly, "How do you spell it?"

To this the mother, in an embarrassed and confidential whisper, replied: "Well I ain't no schollard neither, sir."

She was evidently, adds Mrs. Menzies, surprised at his "ignorance," [illegible] his having to ask her how to spell!

"Loot" Originated in India.

The word "loot" came into the English language by way of India, and is supposed to be derived from the Sanskrit "lotra," signifying booty. Originally all [illegible] taken from the enemy in war pertained to the crown of the [illegible], the title thereto being regarded as indisputable. The crown was supposed to dispose of these spoils of war according to its pleasure, bearing in mind the services of the captors of the matter. This was, indeed, the basis of prize law at sea. But at every international congress at which the laws of war and of [illegible] relations came under discussion it was agreed to exempt from [illegible] property on land and to restrict confiscation to the national property of the foe.

Cloth From Tree Bark.

The [illegible] "tapa" cloth of Polynesia is made from the inner bark of [illegible] of the finest quality it is bleached to snowy whiteness and fine as muslin.

In tropical Africa the inner bark of a leguminous tree is utilized in the same way. Indeed, it is surprising to learn how widely tree barks are employed as material for clothing the world over. And in the West Indies grows the "lace-bark tree," which yields a delicate tissue so like lace that many articles of feminine adornment are made from it.

IDEA ORIGINATED IN ORIENT

Finger-Print System Claimed to Have Been in Use in Far East for Many Years.

The finger-print system [illegible] all over the world have successfully used [illegible] desperate criminals [illegible] the invention of orientals, either Chinese or Japanese, according to [illegible] writing in Nature. The discovery was originally credited to Sir W. Herschel. In a parliamentary [illegible] took [illegible] Kumagusu Minakata, a Japanese, proved the case for the East.

No one in the controversy quoted [illegible] who wrote about the system in use in Cathay even in his day. It was a finger-print system of a sort, although not like that in use today. There was no blackening of the hands prior to the taking of the impression but rather the hand was placed on paper and traced by the person taking the print. The hands of contracting parties were always placed on deeds in those days.

De [illegible] says that this ancient system is worthy of investigation to [illegible] drawings shows a distinct difference in the outlines of fingers of the hands of different individuals, in the length of the fingers, the relative distance made by the axis of the thumb and the axis of the first finger, and in many other ways.

EATS IN PECULIAR POSITION

[illegible] does some things [illegible] upside down [illegible]

[illegible] and others [illegible] in other [illegible]. [illegible] of them are left now, and those [illegible] are very shy of [illegible] seldom seen. [illegible] country and [illegible] few years [illegible] become extinct.

Still Use Dogs in Alps.

Although the tunnels which now connect Switzerland with Italy have greatly lessened the importance of the St. Bernard and other passes, especially during the eight months of snow, it is still deemed advisable to employ St. Bernard dogs. It is no longer customary, however, to send out the dogs alone with baskets of food and drink; a man always accompanies them. These dogs are not really of the famous old St. Bernard breed. That originated in the fourteenth century through a cross between a shepherd dog from Wales and a Scandinavian dog whose parents were a Great Dane and a Pyrenean mastiff. The last pure descendant of this tribe was buried under an avalanche in 1816. Fortunately there were found subsequently at Martigny and on the Simplon pass a few dogs which by crossing with mares from Wales yielded the modern St. Bernard dog, which is physically even stronger than his medieval namesake, and shares most of his traits.

Horse Lore.

It is found that there is a very definite connection between the coat color of horses and the frequency with which white markings occur. Thus the latter are by far the most commonly associated with the chestnut color. And not only are they the most prevalent in chestnut horses, but it is also, of course, a well-known fact that the markings are apt to be more extended in nature in the case of this color than in that of any other. Chestnut, therefore, apparently possesses, so to speak, a special affinity for these markings. [illegible] regards the degree of frequency with which white markings appear in horses of this color, although it comes a good way behind chestnut in this respect. The [illegible] while the white marks are [illegible] less frequently among black and [illegible] colored horses.—Indianapolis News.

In the Age of Chivalry.

[illegible] be surprised to [illegible] women requi[illegible] ally of a really pro[illegible] of comparatively [illegible]. Yet such appears to be the case. Nothing strikes one [illegible] of medieval [illegible] the absolute freedom [illegible] enjoyed to travel and wander [illegible] of molestation. The [illegible] unsettled undoubtedly [illegible] lived for fighting only. But [illegible] the helpless and defenseless [illegible] enough so far as one can judge from contemporary literature. It is not to be denied that they came to grief occasionally, but as a general [illegible] respected the other sex [illegible] of chivalry, and even the [illegible] allowed an unprotected [illegible] ride by unharmed.

And Now the Iceless Age, the Age of Efficient Refrigeration Is Here

The value of Isko can be expressed in two words—IT SAVES.

It saves—by safeguarding health. Isko prevents outside infections from entering through dirty or impure ice.

It saves food—perishable foods that become sour and tainted when kept on Ice, are kept sweet and wholesome for indefinite periods in the uniform, dry Isko cold.

It saves—by making possible the purchase of foods in larger and more economical quantities and then protects them for long periods against spoilage.

It saves—by reducing cost of refrigeration to the very minimum.

It saves—by eliminating worry due to uncertain Ice deliveries. Isko is its own Iceless Iceman—punctual to the fraction of a second, quiet in operation, absolutely fair in its nominal charge for cleaner, better, more healthful and more efficient refrigeration every way.

Wonderfully Simple

Isko [illegible] extra room. It rests on the top of a refrigerator [illegible] away from it or any convenient place.

And remember this. ISKO FITS ANY ICE BOX. If you have a good Ice box, there is no need to throw it away. There is an ISKO size to fit it.

WAR SERVICE FOR WOMEN
REQUIRES HEALTH AND STRENGTH

When was there ever a time when women were doing so much for mankind—and when was the health and strength of our women more vital to the very existence of our country. We can safely say Never. Their sacrifices, their industry, their courage, their patriotism is beautiful beyond words of description. But what of the poor one who wants to help but cannot because she is oppressed by some feminine disorder. To such we recommend with utmost confidence our successful old remedy and insert following a letter from one who proved its value.

Newark, N. J.—"For about three years I suffered from nervous breakdown and got so weak I could hardly stand, and had headaches every day. I tried everything I could think of and was under a physician's care for two years. A girl friend had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she told me about it. From the first day I took it I began to feel better and now I am well and able to do most any kind of work. I have been recommending the Compound ever since and give you my permission to publish this letter."—Miss FLO KELLY, 476 South 14th Street, Newark, N.J.

The reason this famous root and herb remedy was so successful in Miss Kelly's case was because it went to the root of her trouble, restored her to a normal healthy condition.

Esperanca Found Rubber.

It is believed that the rubber tree was discovered by a Jesuit missionary, Fr. Mancelde Esperanca. He found it while on one of his apostolic journeys among the Cambelas Indians of South America and gave it the singular name of the seringueira, because he remarked that the savages used the sap of this tree, which hardens quickly, to make rude bottles that were shaped like a syringe.

Men who toil in lampblack works are—owing, it is said, to the large amount of carbon they inhale—immune from the white plague, and many sufferers in the early stages of phthisis make considerable sacrifices to obtain employment of this kind. These grimy workers further resemble colliers in that they are remarkably free from diseases of the nervous system, observes a writer in London Tit-Bits.

HODGE ASKS FOR NEWSPAPER ARTICLE

Walter Hodge, who has been at the head of the Donora Steel strike, and who was arrested last week when the State Police made a raid on Lithuanian hall, arresting all the occupants, is said to be interested in his record as published in the Donora Herald of last week. He was released from jail last Saturday evening on bail furnished by a Donora resident, but did not return to that town.

Instead he went to Monesseen, where he askeed forcopies of the papper which contained his alleged record, and seemed greatly interested in the source of information.

In the record as published by the Herald it said that Hodge was a draft evader and a soviet organizeer, and that his career during the war was anything but that of a patriot. It is intimated that Hodge may bring proceedings because of the publication, but the newspaper threatened is not making any apologiees for the statements it set forth in its columns.

To The Public:

Conforming with the restriction order announced December 7th through the Railroad Administration of the United States Government for the purpose of conserving coal during the present strike, it is the desire of this Company to co-operate fully with the efforts and instructions of the Government.

Particular attention is here called to the regulations affecting store window and sign lighting. All such lighting furnished from controlled circuits of this Company will be discontinued until the present restrictions are lifted. Where such lighting is furnished through metered service we earnestly request our consumers not to make use of the sign and window lights during the same period.

All lighting should be reduced to a minimum and attention is also particularly called to the fact that the order permits the use of electric lights in dance halls, pool rooms and bowling alleys between the hours of 7 p. m. and 11 p. m. only.

The use of electric elevators should be kept to a minimum, and all other provisions in the order as issued and which has appeared very generally in the public press. should be observed.

We trust that it will be necessary to maintain these restrictions for a short time only and invite careful co-operation in carrying out the provisions of the Government's order.

MISSED THAT DAY OF REST

Tim Herlihy Naturally Dissatisfied at His Loss of That Much-Prized "Vacation."

"Naw, I don't think Timmy'll be staying long on this new job he's took up wid," said Mrs. Herlihy. "'Tis too harrd fer him. Sure he gets no rist at all from Monda' mornin' till Saturda' night, and 'tis not what the man's used to."

"He has his Sundays to rist in," hazarded the caller, boldly.

"An' what o' that?" said Mrs. Herlihy, "On Sunda's he has to go to church, an' tak the children to their grandmama's an' visit wid his coosins an' all— 'tis no rist at all."

"'Twas wan day out of ivery fortnit he had wid the ould job, wa'n't it?" queried the caller.

"It was," said Mrs. Herlihy, "an' 'twas a grand vacation he had. I'd save ivery bit o' the washin,' an' he'd wring it out fine, an' hang it on the line for me; thin he'd saw 'n' shplit wood enough to last till the nixt vacation day, an' he'd bate ivery mat in the house an' shine up the faucets an' the b'iler, an' wash the windys, an' there'd always be some little exthra help, drivin' nails or the like, he cud give me.

"An' whin he'd go to his bed at night he'd niver fail to say to me, 'Well Celia, my vacation day is over, but I feel like it's made me ready to go back to wurrk to-morrer,' he'd say."—Youth's Companion.

GIRLS HELPED BY DANCING

That twice as many girls as boys squint is one of the conclusions arrived at by Dr. W. H. Hamer, medical officer of health.

In his report on London school children, he attributes girls' poorer eyesight to sewing classes in school in the late afternoon while the light is at its worst, and when, in the winter months, artificial light has to be used.

Girls, however, according to Dr. Hamer, have better teeth than boys, due to the fact that it is easier to persuade the former to use a toothbrush than the latter. Girls suffer, because of lack of outdoor games and sports, more than boys from heart defects and anaemia.

But, in spite of all these disadvantages, the poise and deportment of London girls is superior to that of boys. Country boys and girls both fall short of the London girl in this respect.

Particularly noticeable is the graceful arch of her instep, due to her love of dancing. This, and the teaching of dancing, is said to have greatly helped, if it has not saved, the situation in regard to physical development.—London Tit-Bits.

Money in Seaweed.

All along the coast of Norway seaweed is gathered and burned. This seaweed grows in veritable forests, and is not of the common grass variety. In fact, there are actual trees of it five or six feet high, with stems like ropes and leaves tough as leather. They begin to sprout early in the year and cover the ocean bed with a dense, impenetrable brush.

As a source of income the seaweed industry now surpasses the fisheries, and it is more valuable than agriculture, even in one of the leading farming districts of Norway. Owners of land abutting on the seashore reap a great harvest.

After the weeds have been burned the ashes are exported to England, where valuable chemical substances are extracted from them. The most important of these products is iodine.

Detour When Necessary.

Many people flatly refuse to take detours. The consequence is they remain right where they are. Either they do not possess the necessary patience and energy or they have an inflated notion that they can disregard life's laws. Of course you can sit down and fossilize wherever you want to so long as you don't impede the progress of others. But people who want to get on in life take the detours and make the most of them. They are no fonder of life's grades and dangerous ditches than other people, but they want to get somewhere. So they make the venture. And when they keep their eyes and ears open, and keep control of their progress there is little danger of failing in safe conduct. Meanwhile they are adapting themselves to circumstances and getting a grip on the world. They are learning how the people who always live on the detour have to struggle to get along. The knowledge will be helpful in the days that are to be.

Lost Honors Magellan Won.

An astrologer deprived Ruy Faleiro, the famous Spanish astronomer, of sharing joint honors with Ferdinand Magellan in the discovery of the Pacific ocean and the straits of Magellan. He had joint contract with Magellan from Charles V under which the two were to have one-twenty-fifth of the clear profits of the journey as well as governorship of all the lands discovered on the trip, with the rank of adelantados. This was to be theirs for life and then handed down to their heirs forever. Before the date of sailing Faleiro had his horoscope cast. The astrologer said that this told him the trip would be fatal, and Faleiro stayed behind when Magellan and his five ships sailed from Seville, Spain.

Corns 'Tween Toes? Use Easy "Gets-It"

Any Corn or Callus Comes Off Peacefully, Gloriously. Never Fails.

It is easy for "Gets-It" to reach "hard-to-get-at" corns, and better yet, it is easy to remove them, because "Gets-It" makes them come right off just like a banana peel. You can try to dig or drag out your corns with a knife, or slice them with a "bloody" razor, or use bandages and tape and wrap up your toe into a package, but that's the "treat-'em-rough," painful, foolish way. Use 2 or 3 drops of "Gets-It"—that's the peaceful, sure, common-sense way that never fails. You reach the corn easily with the little glass rod in the cork of every "Gets-It" bottle. It does not hurt the true flesh. Try it, trot and smile! It's a blessing; never fails. "Gets-It," the only sure, guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Snakes.

It is known that some species of serpents lay eggs, as farmers often plow them up, and upon opening them they find the embryo snake within the leathery covering. The eggs of the same species vary in size and shape, but are always oval. As a rule it is the constricting snake, or those which kill their prey by squeezing it, that lay eggs; such as the black snake, boa constrictor, etc.

Safe.

On the occasion of a slight fire and much smoke behind the curtain a vaudeville manager was trying, unsuccessfully, by suave, assuring statements to quell an incipient panic in the audience. A leading comedian rushed out and, pointing a finger of scorn at the manager, appealed to the audience thus: "Sure, do you think he would be such a fool as to stop here if there were any danger?"

To Acquire Greatness.

The best guarantee to greatness is an intense interest in a great program. Then it is that the fellow becomes so full of the job that he hasn't time to think about whether he's great or not. He sees the thing to be done and becomes so full of how to do it that he rises without knowing that he's becoming great in the eyes of the world. So the best thing is to be filled with your job and work it until it gets the fruits.

Some Superstitions.

The breaking of a looking glass is, with some people, the occasion of a gloomy foreboding, and the unlucky person who does it is supposed to be doomed to seven years of bad luck. Peacock feathers were formerly considered as bearers of sickness, yet fashion has introduced them into house decorations.

Books.

One cannot celebrate books sufficiently. After saying his best, still something better remains to be spoken in their praise. As with friends, one finds new beauties with every meeting, and would abide always in the presence of those choice companions. As with friends, he may dispense with a wide acquaintance. Few and choice. —A Bronson Alcott.

Probably Both.

"That woman on the corner, waiting for a trolley car, refused your offer of a lift rather superciliously." "So she did," replied the obliging man. "And now I'll never know if she turned up her nose at my company or my flivver." —Birmingham Age-Herald.

Costliest of Books.

It is said that the highest price ever realized for a book, was paid at an auction sale in London recently, for a book of private devotion, a "XIV Century Book of Hours," formerly the property of Jeanne II, Queen of Navarre, which brought $59,000.

Would Save Money.

Prospective Bridegroom (in furniture shop)—These prices make me give up all thoughts of marriage. I now realize it'll be cheaper to let her sue me for breach of promise.

The Thoughtless Son.

The old-fashioned genius who used to have to get up at nights and jot down his brilliant thoughts now has a son who can sleep ten hours straight without any difficulty.

They Frequently Do.

Lives of rich men's sons remind us we could tackle one per chance, and departing leave behind us footprints on the young man's pants.

Stopping to Think.

More good is done by stopping a minute to think before you act than by the regret of a lifetime.

Christmas only 2 weeks away and merchandise the scarcest ever felt in the history of our nation. Now that our stocks are full and variety plenty we urge you to do your Christmas buying now and you will get the cream of the many beautiful Christmas gifts we have to offer and prices we guarantee are right.

And DIXIE MARGARINE is PASTEURIZED. PASTEURIZED in every ingredient.

Milk and cream are supposed to be Pasteurized before they ever leave the big Milk Stations in the Country. But we take no chances. We re-clarify and re-pasteurize every gallon of it—and we use thousands of gallons daily.

So we know that DIXIE Margarine is absolutely pure, because it is absolutely PASTEURIZED.

Besides which, DIXIE has even a higher Food Value* than butter.

DIXIE is the Margarine with the full butter flavor.

*Any chemist or Food Expert in America will tell you so.

Because of its purity, DIXIE is a rich, cream white, the same as butter before it is colored. But your Dealer will supply you FREE with a capsule of pure vegetable coloring matter the same as is used in the best creamery butter. Follow directions on the wrapper, mix this in well and you will have a rich, golden Margarine that nobody can tell from the highest priced butter either by color or taste.

GENERAL RESUMPTION OF MINES EXPECTED BY MONDAY MORNING

Little Activity During Remainder of This Week

LOCALS NOTIFIED THURSDAY

Apparently there was little activity at any of the mines in this sections of the valley this morning, as none of them appeared to be running any coal Of course this condition was to have been expected, as it will require a few days to get things going right and places ready to produce coal in anything like large quantities Inside operations will be the first consideration and while a large number of miners may report for work today, they will not be able to produce any great quantities o coal. By Monday however it is anticipated that all, or at least the greater numbeer of mines will be in operation. in operation

All of the locals in this section of the valley were notified on Thursday of the action of the general committee at Indianapolis on Wednesday and it was anticipated that action thereon would be taken last night. As the national officers have recommended that the offer of the governmeent be acceepted, it is safe to assume that the actions of all locals will be favorable and that mining will be generally resumed not later than Monday. As before stated, there may be some cleaning up today, but it is not likely that any coal will be run over the tipples before the first of the coming week.

In the meantime, however, there will be but little relaxation in fuel regulations until the production of coal is of such a volume as to insure a supply to all essential undertakings. It will take several days for conditions to reach a normal state but the fuel administration appears to be anxious to life all embargoes as rapidly as possible So far these conditions have not been very onerous, and the resumption of mining activity will see their passing in a comparatively short time.

In the meantime the public is concerned over the resumption expected at all of the mines throughout the country.

EMBARGO TO END WHEN CONDITIONS ARE NORMAL

Restrictions in the use of light and fuel will continue until conditions are normal, according to the national fuel administration. However, with all mines working full it will not take a great while to get back to conditions which prevailed prior to the strike the last of October.

HODGE COULD NOT SECURE BAIL BOND

In the hearing of the steel strikers before Justice of the Peace Grover W. Boyd at Donora held on Thursday, Walter Hodge, who was in charge of the strikers' headquarters in that town, and who was arrested by the state troopers at the time a raid was made on Lithuanian hall, was held in the sum of $500 for his appearance at court As he could not furnish the bond he was sent to jail to await the action of the grand jury. All but four of the other strikers succeeded in obtaining bail and were released.

The principal witness for the commonwealth was Michael Toth, who testified that while Hodge did not openly advocate dynamiting, he did say to the men gathered at the hall, that "if they had in their heads what he had in his heart the strike would be won in a short time" And further he advised them to use their heads When reports of dynamiting were received at the hall, Hodge is alleged to have said— "Those boys are using their heads."

On the evidence given before the Justice Boyd, the Burgess of Donora Harry Cox, ordered the Lithuanian hall closeed for an indefinite period and no one will be allowed to enter until his order is revoked.

Coal Suit Being Heard by The Court Without a Jury

The suit of George W. Dawson of Charleroi, against the Pittsburg Coal company, a damage claim involving an alleged trespass on property of the plaintiff adjoining the Crescent mine above California, was taken from the jury on Thursday and is being heard before the court without a jury.

In February, 1917, Mr. Dawson purchased 14 or 15 acres of coal and surface in East Pike Run township, adjoining the Crescent mine. The property runs to the harbor line of the Monongahela river and over the property on the river frontage is the right of way of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, with just room for three tracks between the harbor line and the Dawson property. The property of Mr. Dawson had on it, when he purchased, an old mine which was not being operated. The opening from this mine to the river extnded under the right of way of the railroad company, through a culvert.

Mr. Dawson alleges that when he took up negotiations following his preparations to open the mine on his property, with the railroad company, to put a siding at his mine he was informed by the railroad company that his request for a siding could not be granted, that the siding of the railroad company to the Crescent mine extended over his property.

Mr. Dawson claims that by reason of not getting access to his mine by railroad he had to ship his coal by river, and could not get as good a price also that the right of way of the coal company interferred with the proper drainage of the Dawson mine and thus caused damage. Mr. Dawson subsequently sold the property, but he avers at a lower figure because of these damages.

BODIES OF BANDITS ARRIVE IN MONESSEN

The bodies of Steven Andreas and Thomas Widzgeristi otherwise known as Thomas McCluskey(who were apprehended in abank robbery at Orwell, Ohio one night last week and shot to death by a Sheriff's posse arrived at Monessen this morning and were taken to the Check morgue where thee are being held pending funeral arrangements

It transpires that the bandits went to Warren, Ohio, by train and expected to use an automobile which the detective who had obtained their secrets, had secured for their use in making their get-away after robbing the bank They made their entrance to the bank all right, but as soon as McCluskey began drilling on the vault the bank room was immediately flooded by electric light, which had been arranged for the purpose McCluskey started for the door, firing as he tried to make his exit. This was a signal for the posse, which opened fire, both Andreas and McCluskey being killed outrighht. The third bandit is still in the hospital, suffering from severe wounds, and if he recovers he will likeely receive a severe penitentiary sentnce.

FLOOR GAME IS AROUSING INTEREST

The basket ball game to be played at the high school gymnasium Saturday evening, between the S. A. E. Fraternity of Pittsburg, and the Charleroi high school alumni, promises to be more than usually interesting. On the S. A. E. Fraternity team will be found a number of former Charleroi players, as well as others who are known to many of the followers of the game. In the line-up of the visitors will be found Lutes, Eagye and Pollock, all Charleroi boys, as well as Shaner, of Oakmonsburg, who played against former local high school teams, and who later was on the Allegheny College team at Meadville. Others among the visitors will be Hewitt, Gordon and Curry, all of whom are known in Charleroi.

The Alumni team will be made up of Louis and William Phillips, Chuck Lowstutter, Glunt, Stahlman and L. Fiedler and from the well known merits of these players it will be seen that the contest is going to be one of the most interesting ever played on the local floor.

Two extra coaches were attached to passenger train 7842, south bound, this morning, which carried a large number of men who went to the Pittsburg Steel plant in Monessen. There were over one hundred of them in the party. Some additional labor also went to the Allenport plant.

FRANK BLY ENDS LIFE BY SHOOTING

Frank Bly, a former well known citizen of Charleroi, committeed suicide by shooting, at his home in Fallowfield township, near the Rogers school house, Maple creek, about noon today. The only reason assigned for the deed is the fact that Mr. Bly had been in poor health for a number of years and that his condition was gradually growing worse.

Mr. Bly had moved to the country some years ago, and at the present time was engaged in building a new house which he expected to occupy. This forenoon he came into the house about 11 o'clock and dinner not being quite ready, shaved himself. After he was through he laid the razor on the bureau and went out. A short time later a neighbor heard a number of shots, and going to the mouth of a coal mine open on the place, discovered Mr. Bly in a sitting posture just inside the mouth of the entry. It was discovered that he had shot himself five times through the breast with a 22 calibre revolver and that his death immediateely followed.

Mr. Bly was born in Kane, Pa., February 22, 1867. He was engaged in business in Charleroi for many years and was a well known contractor.

Funeral servicees will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in charge of Rev. Greenlee and Charleroi Lodge No. 615, F. & A. M. Interment will take place at Maple Creek.

S. S. CONVENTION TUESDAY AFTERNOON

The Charleroi District of the Washington County Sabbath School Association will hold its regular Fall convention in the Methodist Episcopal church of Charleroi, next Tuesday afternoon and evening, December 16, 1919. A strong program has been prepared and all schools in the district have been requested to send two or more delegates.

Were Given a Hearing Before Justice Boyd on Thursday

ALL GAVE BAIL EXCEPT FIVE

One hundred and one steel strikers, arrested in a raid on Lithuanian hall, Donora, by state trooperes last week, following an explosion of dynamite which partially destroyed the home of Felix Burkhart, a carpenter in the Donora mills, were held for court on a charge of conspiracy by Justice Grover Boyd, at a hearing given the accused in Donora Thursday afternoon.

Following the raid of a week ago about 70 of the defendants were lodged in the county jail where they were taken by auto busses, and held until Thursday morning, when they were returned to Donora by a special street car in order to be present at the hearing.

Of the 101 defendants who appeared before the Justice, all but five were released on bail, who were taken back to the Washington jail where they will be held pending action by the grand jury of the Federal term of court, unless sooner released on bail.

The raid on Lithuanian hall in Donora was made by the officeers on the 4th of December and followed shortly after the report of the dynamite outrage was made to the state police. These officers, assisted by others, appeared at the hall about 9 o'clock in the morning and arrested every man in it. The officers had come to the conclusion that the dynamiting outrages were concocted in this hall and believe that by breaking up the meetings there they would bring a stop to these activities. Since these arrests were made Donora has been very quiet.

ARREST FOLLOWS MIDNIGHT SHOOTING

Joseph Holmes, who lives on Long alley, between Seventh and Eighth street, was arrested by the police early this morning, for discharging firearms. He was taken to the borough building and later released on a forfeit for his appearance before the Burgess. Holmes claims that another man attempted to hold him up, and after reaching his home discharged his revolver at the party whom he believed was waiting to rob him.

Holmes had alighted from a street car from Pittsburg and was on his way home when he observed three men dart into the alleey just ahead of him. Fearing they wanted to rob him he went up town and secured a number of other men to accompany him and search for the highwaymen. It was while the search was on that the shot was fired.
